Negro Poisoner Captured.

Dave Kemper, the negro who is charged with attempting to poison the family of Mr. Sam Hardin, a well-known Bourbon farmer of near Shakespeare, several months ago, and who has been a fugitive from justice since the occurrence, was arrested Saturday at Ruggles Mills by Deputy Sheriff W. F. Talbot and Jailer Geo. W. Judy and is now in jail awaiting his examining trial. Many persons have forgotten the circumstances of the case, which were as follows:

Kemper was employed by Mr. Harding as a farm hand, and, for several days before the attempt to poison Mr. Harding and his family was made, he was heard to mutter threats against his employer.

On the morning when the attempt was made Kemper, it is said, volunteered to make the fire for the cook, and it is thought while she was engaged in other duties poison was doused in the bucket of drinking water, lard, butter, milk and other articles of food that were to be used on the breakfast table.

After making the fire Kemper left the premises, while the negro woman proceeded to prepare the morning meal. In taking a drink of water she tasted something bitter and throwing out the remainder that was in the cup she stepped over to the jar of lard and with a spoon placed some of the lard in her mouth to counteract the taste of the water.

The lard being equally as bitter as the water she then notified Mr. and Mrs. Harding of her discovery. All of the lard, butter, flour, milk and meat that had been given out for the breakfast meal was then dumped into the slop tub and unthoughtedly emptied into a hog trough by the cook.

A bunch of nine hogs belonging to Mr. Harding ate the contents of the trough and in less than an hour all died in great agony, clearly demonstrating that the food was saturated with poison. The stomach of one of the hogs was taken out and sent to the chemist of State University, in Lexington, whose analysis showed that enough poison had been eaten to have killed a hundred people.

An immediate search of the premises disclosed the fact that Kemper had made his escape. Messages were sent by the Sheriff to all the neighbouring towns to be on the lookout for Kemper, together with an accurate description of the negro, but nothing was heard of him till Saturday when he was apprehended as above stated.

A Correction.

In some unexplainable manner we made a mistake in the published statement of the Farmers' Bank of Millersburg, in our last issue. We had "house and lot $7,000" when the amount should have been $9,000.

Change of Program at the Grand.

Manager Jackson, of the Paris Grand, is securing for his patrons vaudeville acts that are delighting all. Last night he presented an entirely new program, which is an exceptionally good one.

Two new vaudeville acts, two new sets of the very latest moving pictures and a new illustrated song greeted those who were in attendance at the opening performance of the bill for the first three nights of this week.

Harry Pearce, singing and dancing comedian, "kicked in" with a "stunt," that is entirely new. His songs and dances caught the audience and there

Leading Points Made in Democratic Platform.

We favor an immediate revision of the tariff. Article entering into competition with articles controlled by the trusts should be placed upon the free list.

We favor an income tax . . . and a national inheritance tax to reach the "swollen fortunes" already in existence.

Both Nation and State should ascertain the present value of railroads, measured by the cost of production; prohibit issue of any more watered stock or fictitious capitalization; prohibit railroads from engaging in any business which brings them in competition with their shippers, and reduce transportation rates to a point where they will yield a reasonable return on the present value of the roads.

Emergency currency should be issued and controlled by the Federal Government.

We favor such a modification of the law relating to injunction as will, first, permit the issuing of the writ in industrial disputes after notice to defendants; second, permit trial before a judge other than the one who issued the writ, and, third, allow a jury to be summoned in all cases where the alleged contempt is committed outside the presence of the court.

We insist upon legislation, State and National, making it unlawful for any corporation to contribute to campaign funds and providing for publication before the election of all individual contributions above a reasonable minimum.

Wheat Wanted.

Cleveland's Will Filed.

The will of Grover Cleveland has been filed with the Surrogate of Mercer County, N. J., and will be probated within ten days, when Mrs. Cleveland will go to Princeton from her mother's home in Tamworth, N. H., where she has been staying since the former President's death.

The amount of the estate could not be learned, but it was stated that it was larger than hitherto supposed and would provide comfortably for Mrs. Cleveland and her children.

Mr. Cleveland drew the will himself and arranged that the bulk of his property should go to his widow.

An Impudent Negro Arrested.

Julian Talbot, the colored boy that drives Batterson & Doty's delivery wagon has been in the habit of cutting two little boys severely on the legs with his whip whenever he met them. The little fellows drive stock for Mr. Whaley. Yesterday the negro again made a severe cut on the leg of one of the boys who reported it at once to his employer.

Mr. Whaley found the negro and asked him why he did it, and he replied that it was because he wanted to. He showed fight striking at Whaley, who promptly punched him in the mouth. About this time Sheriff Clarke appeared on the scene and marched the impudent negro off to jail. Bystanders were sorry to see the Sheriff, for Mr. Whaley would have given him what he deserved if Mr. Clarke had not stopped the fracas.

DEATHS.

Roger Lavin, aged about 40 years, died at his home on High street, after two weeks illness. He is survived by his wife, nee Miss Mollie Higgins and one child, a daughter; two brothers, Mike and Joe Lavin and one sister, Miss Mollie Lavin.

The deceased was born and raised in Paris and popular with all who knew him. He was an expert tailor by trade, and worked at his trade industriously until his health failed some time ago. He was big hearted and generous to a fault. A large circle of friends will regret to learn of his death.

Funeral services will be held this morning from the Catholic church at 9 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Father DeGraff. Burial in Catholic cemetery.

A Political Party Afraid.

If the mental attitude of the Republican party can be judged by the action or the convention, it has taken counsel of its fears.

In rejecting by a vote of 917 to 63—nearly 15 to 1—the plank providing for the physical valuation of railroads, the Republican party admits that it is afraid of the truth. What objection can there be to finding out what the railroads are actually worth? If they are over-capitalized, the country ought to know it. If they are not over-capitalized, the railroads themselves ought to be glad to have the fact announced. So long as the truth is concealed, there will be exaggeration on both sides—those who lean to the side of the railroads denying that there is over-capitalization, and those who demand rate reduction insisting that the over-capitalization is considerable. We ought to know the truth. But the Republican party shows by the action which the convention took that it is afraid of the truth.

The timidity of the Republican leaders was even more emphasized in the vote of 830 to 91—9 to 1—rejecting the plank providing for publicity as to campaign contributions and expenditures. They are even afraid of the light, for publicity would throw light upon politics. Elections are public affairs and they ought to be conducted in a public way. Secrecy as to campaign methods and as to the influences which affect elections is indefensible. If the demand was for the publication of past contributions and expenditures, the Republican convention might have offered as an excuse that contributions made and money expended without expectation of publicity could not be made public without some embarrassment to those giving and receiving, but such an excuse can not be offered for a law applying to future contributions and disbursements. It is not necessary that small contributions shall be made public, and to make these public might subject the giver to injustice if, for instance, the giver was an employee and opposed to his employer. The same argument that is made in favor of secret ballot could be made in favor of secrecy as to small contributions, but this argument will not apply to large contributions. If a man gives largely, the public has a right to know whether the gift measures a general interest in the public, or is part of an implied contract whereby a return is to be secured in legislation or in immunity. No corporation of any kind should be allowed to contribute to a campaign fund, for corporations are not organized above a reasonable minimum should be open to inspection in order that the voters may be made acquainted with the influences which are at work in the campaign. Why did the Republican convention turn down this plank by such an overwhelming vote when the president had asked for publicity legislation and the Republican candidate for President had put himself on record in favor of such legislation? And how fortunate it is that Mr. Taft's letter to Senator Burrows was brought to the attention of the public! If it had not appeared before the convention, it would have been difficult to find after the convention. There can be but one explanation of the action of the Republican convention, namely, that it is the intention of those in charge of the Republican party to secure campaign funds from sources which they dare not disclose. They are afraid of the light.

But a still more remarkable manifestation of fear is to be found in the vote of 866 to 114—7 to 1—by which they turn down the proposition to elect United States Senators by direct vote of the people. What does this mean? Simply that the Republican leaders distrust popular government. We elect our Congressmen by the people; we elect our governors and State officers by the people; we elect our President and Vice President by the people. If the electors have no discretion—and no elector would dare to vote contrary to the sentiment of those who elected him—why are the people denied the right to select Senators by direct vote? There is one reason, and only one—the United States Senate today is the bulwark of predatory wealth; favor-seeking corporations have made it a depository of their power and they close the door of reform. Every remedial law must have the sanction of the Senate as well as the approval of the House and the President. So long as the exploiting interests can control the Senate, they can hold the people at bay, and this is why the Republican convention insolently thwarted the purpose of those Republicans who sympathize with the desire of the people in their demand for relief from present conditions. Surely the rank and file of the Republican party will express their indignation at this open and obvious distrust of the people. The Republican party has added to its many sins this unpardonable one, that it is afraid of the people.

What an indictment the voters can bring against the Republican party this year!

Afraid of the Truth!

Afraid of the Light!

Afraid of the People!

And the party, in convention assembled, pleads guilty to the indictment.

Democrats Forced to Contribute.

The Paper Trust has just reported to the New York Stock Exchange that its gross profits for the past ten months were $17,187,000. For which good the Paper Trust must be thankful to the Republican party which has protected it from competition through high tariff rates. When the Trust makes its contribution to the Republican campaign fund, every Democratic newspaper proprietor, at least, will unwillingly be the indirect donor of part of the biddle to elect Taft and Sherman, and another Republican Congress, which would, if successful, perhaps revise the tariff higher instead of abolishing the tariff on wood pulp and print paper.

Is This Reform?
There must be a wave of Puritanism overrunning the Pelican State, for the Journal of the Louisiana House of Representatives records:

"An act requiring old maids and bachelors to either marry or adopt enough children to direct their attention along useful and proper lines."

"An act to make it a misdemeanor for any man to kiss his own wife or any other man's wife on Sunday, and providing a penalty therefor."

Are the people of Louisiana reforming or degenerating to the condition of those of Salem where they burnt old women as witches? Anyway it hardly seems Democratic, which should allow the most absolute freedom of the individual that is possible without interfering with the rights of others.

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their forms are attestated under oath, being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate women and children. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better agent is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles used in them, viz.—pure trineolyl glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and anti-septile, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, grating feeling in stomach, biliousness, and bilious colic, distress of the stomach, liver and bowels. Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passage or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely three or four times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption. In its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific remedy, especially for those obstinate, hacking coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption. It is the best medicine that can be taken.

PEALE COLLIER & CO.

The contract for the new Associated Reform church was let Thursday to Butler & Sheeler and will cost about $4,000. It is a modern up-to-date little building, with lecture room, auditorium and preacher's study. The congregation is small but determined to hold itself together. It is only by the untiring efforts of their pastor, Rev. G. L. Kerr that this was made possible. It succeeds the old brick temple on the Cynthiana pike, which was built in 1819, and was sold in 1894 to Samuel Berry.

Master George Morton Jones entertained Friday night about fifty of his little friends at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Jones. The grounds were beautifully illuminated with Japanese lanterns, while the house was decorated with flags. The national colors prevailed in every thing. Games and fireworks were indulged in and refreshments consisting of ices and cakes were served. The evening was one that will always be remembered by the little folks.

Miss Katherine Linville resigned her position as postal clerk at the post-office on July 1. Miss Linville has held this position since last October and was the successor of Miss Mary Louise Boulden, kind and courteous, attentive to the interests of all with whom she was called on to deal. She, like Miss Boulden, soon made a multitude of friends who sincerely regret her resignation. She was succeeded by Mr. B. A. Neal bookkeeper at the Farmers' Bank, who is in every respect a thorough business man.

Our community was shocked Wednesday morning when it was learned that Mrs. Mattie Frank Baird had received a telegram announcing the sudden death of her father, Mr. Robert McClelland, of Cincinnati. Mr. McClelland was 58 years of age, dying suddenly of heart trouble. He was conversing at the time with friends and died without a struggle. He was a son of the late Joseph McClelland, of this place, a prominent stock dealer and farmer, and was himself well known on the stock exchange in former years. His wife preceded him to the grave several years ago. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Mattie Frank Baird, of Mt. Sterling, his aged mother, Mrs. Martha McClelland, of Paris, and one brother, Mr. J. C. McClelland, of Cincinnati. The remains were brought here for burial Thursday noon and were taken to the home of Mrs. C. W. Corrington, where a short funeral service was held by Rev. T. W. Watts of the Methodist church, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Millersburg cemetery. The family have the sympathy of the entire community in this sad loss. The following is a list of the out-of-town people who attended the funeral: Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Turner, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Langston, of Paris; Mrs. John Hutsell, Mr. J. W. Powling, and daughter, of Carlisle.

Suffers With Broken Leg.

Mr. Chipley, who works for the county in the quarry in East Paris, was kicked by one of the work mules while feeding him Sunday, and the bone of his right leg was shattered.

Court Day.

One of the smallest court day crowds for many months was here yesterday. No trading at all worthy of note. There was not a mule on the market. About 400 of cattle were at Murphy's pens, and 350 sold at from 44 to 42.

The Bluegrass Pool.

The farmers of Bourbon, Clark and Montgomery who have pooled their bluegrass seed held meeting in the court house yesterday. So far the dealers have failed to make them a price for the pooled seed. It is said that the farmers are talking of putting up cleaning plant for the purpose of cleaning the pooled seed and holding until they get their price.

Shriners at Lexington.

Lexington was the Mecca Saturday for Mystic Shriners from all over the State. They were there to aid in the institution of Oleika Temple in Lexington.

Nearly seventy-five candidates were initiated. The parade through the streets began at 11 o'clock, the march ending at State University campus, where luncheon was served. The Shriners then went into executive session in the gymnasium of the University, where the work was done. Among those initiated were the following from Bourbon: E. M. Dickson, John M. Bedford, John P. Peed, Sanford Allen, W. H. Bedford and M. H. H. Davis. A grand ball was given at night.

An Imposing Building.

The cupola of the new public school building which has been under construction for the past week will in a few days be completed. With this exception the outside work on the building is practically finished. Interior workmen are now on the ground and this work will be pushed as speedily as possible.

During the agreeable weather of the spring and summer work on the structure progressed rapidly and now all doubt that the building will be completed by the opening of the fall term of school has been banished. When the grounds are placed in their proper condition the building will present an imposing appearance, and will be to the citizens of Paris a building of which we are all justly proud.

Moler McVey, of Houstonville, Ky. The proceeds netted $29. The program included some excellent music and a two-act drama in which the following played the different parts:

Irene Lary, Mary Gorham, Norman Liver, Lucien Terrell, Orrin Estes, Roberta Gorham, G. C. Thompson, Jr., Ernest Barnaby, Blanche Thompson, Maude Parrish, Sallie Parrish, Nina Farris.

Milt Young to Sell Out.

Owing to the adverse legislation enacted in New York and Louisiana affecting the thoroughbred industry, Col. Milton Young, the master of McGrathiana, next to James B. Haggins' Elmendorf Stud, the largest thoroughbred breeding establishment in the United States, has decided to sell most of his thoroughbred stock, consisting of about 700 stallions, mares, yearlings and weanlings and also disposed of about 2,000 acres of his fine bluegrass land. For several days past the report has been current that Col. Young contemplated the dispersal of his thoroughbreds, and when seen yesterday morning he confirmed the report by saying that his land as well as his horses are for sale.

"Get In The Push and Push."

Local interest is centered on July 23rd, the day when the Paris Commercial Club will have its first annual outing, and so far the committee in charge of the arrangement have met with success beyond their expectations. The Club has arranged for amusements of every description on the picnic grounds, a mammoth parade in which Commercial Clubs from adjoining towns, local merchants and several bands of music will participate, and many other features for the enjoyment of the visitors to our city.

Nothing is being left undone that will in any particular add to the success of the occasion and we have the assurance of this representative body of business men that this day will go down on record as one of the most enjoyable in the history of Paris. So with this object in view let us all "get in the push and push."

Fourth of July Patriots.

Once more the annual barbaric sacrifice orgie of death and mutilation which masquerades under the guise of patriotic celebration of the nation's independence day, has passed, and the fearful cost has only been counted in part. Up to yesterday there had been 38 deaths reported, and 1,429 injured at the usual Fourth of July celebrations throughout the country. Besides there was $69,950 worth of property burned, caused from careless shooting of fireworks, and the half has not yet been told.

Nothing is being left undone that will in any particular add to the success of the occasion and we have the assurance of this representative body of business men that this day will go down on record as one of the most enjoyable in the history of Paris. ## Cupid's Coal Truck.

By James Francis Dwyer.

Copyrighted, 1908, by E. C. P. & Co.

The car came to an abrupt stop, and the conductor stretched his neck in a reckless manner as he looked for the cause.

"Coal truck on the blink with a broken axle," he cried disgustedly, "and now I got to chase through the snow to phone the 'emergency van'." He walked through the car to acquaint the motorman of his heroic intention and, after buttoning his jacket, set off up the snow covered road in search of a telephone.

The motorman took the opportunity to stretch his legs by walking around the disabled vehicle. When he stepped from the car the two passengers signed wearily and the man moved closer to his companion.

"Well, I'm glad that conductor has gone," he remarked. "He stared at us till my conscience suggested I had given him a bad coin."

The fun-wrapped girl beside him laughed merrily.

"Tis a night of conductors," she murmured. "I have noticed them before."

"I will pardon him," said the man. "He is but mortal, and I am pleased to find that his mercenary occupation has not destroyed his love of the beautiful."

The girl smiled indulgently, but remained silent. Meanwhile the motorman had entered into a discussion with the truck driver as to the best method of removing the damaged vehicle.

"Lettie!" The man seized both hands now and tried to turn her face toward him. "I want to tell you—"

"Use the whip!" yelled the driver.

His shrill shriek rippled through the car and drowned the man's voice.

The girl turned toward the window, and the fur boa on her shoulders shook suspiciously. The man had a dim idea that she was laughing.

"Lettie!" The man was desperate.

"I—I love you."

A loud yell of triumph came from the driver, and a merry peal of laughter from the girl helped the echoes as they buzzed around the car. The noise was tremendous. The driver's yell was deafening, and the shouts of the motorman and the truckman told the man that the work of removing the obstruction was nearly finished. He took one hasty glance at the moving truck and, springing back, quickly seized the laughing girl in his arms.

"There!" he cried triumphantly as he kissed the blushing face. "And there! And there again!" And over the girl's muffled laughter and protests came a victorious cheer from the motorman and the two truck drivers, informing the two passengers that the truck was clear at last.

Three minutes afterward the conductor kicked the snow from his boots and gave the "Go ahead" signal to the elated motorman, and the car moved off. As they passed the disabled truck the man pointed to the name painted in red letters on its side, and the girl read, "John Love, Trucker in."

"One of Dan Cupid's allies," whispered her companion. And the blush on her face made the beauty loving conductor stare after her for the rest of the journey to the infinite delight of the man.

"The slightest puckering round the corners of the little mouth showed where a smile tried hard to establish a footing.

"When Mr. Dorrington called yesterday," continued the girl, "I watched him closely while he was speaking to mother—"

"Pardon me!" The man's tone was masterful, and the girl stopped. "Is Dorrington—old Dorrington—in love with your mother?"

The smile made another valiant effort to disturb the serenity of the girl's face, but retired discomfited.

"I do not think so," she said quietly. "If he is, the feeling is not reciprocated, as mother always leaves me to entertain him when he calls."

The man winced.

"I am anxious about him"—he tried to hide the effect produced by her thrust—"Dorry is not young, you know, and love, like measles, plays the mischief with elderly people."

The boisterous smile flashed triumphantly across the girl's blushing face.

"Seriously, Letty," her companion continued. "Dorrington is old! I remember him twenty-five years ago, when he chased me away from a pond near your mother's house. God bless my heart, girl!" his tone changed to one expressing blank astonishment. "I am getting old too!"

The girl turned, and the blue eyes looked carefully over the man's brown face, noting the length and depth of every wrinkle that marked it.

"You are getting old, Jack."

"I know it," he cried, "and here am I in a sidetracked car doing nothing, while time pursues me remorselessly."

Evidently thinking anything preferable to conversation, he started out to capture one of the little gloved hands of his companion, and after she had vainly tried to defeat his intentions, he clasped it between his own two and seemed immensely pleased at the feat.

"Dear me," she sighed. "I wish that conductor would come back."

"He cannot shift us!" The man was defiant, and the girl blushed as she noticed his restlessness.

"I suppose he can start at you," she cried irritably, "and your actions since he departed prove that the stare was effective."

"But, Letty," he said, "what a terrible thing it is to look back on three thousand wasted years, thirty-five autumns, thirty-five springs, and the same number of winters and summers, all barren and useless!" He shuddered and moved closer.

"Oh, Jack," she murmured, "do look and see if he is coming."

He stood up, still holding the little hand, and carefully scanned the white road. "He is not coming!" he cried gleefully. "He will have to walk a mile—a mile there and a mile back."

"You have no pity!" exclaimed the girl. She made an attempt to release the imprisoned hand as she spoke, but the man's grip tightened. "How would you like it, sir, if you had to walk two miles in the snow because a silly coal truck collapsed on the track?"

He said the man, dropping back into his seat. "It is a wonderful glorious rain-bowed instrument of—"

"Don't say Providence," she interrupted.

"No; of Dan Cupid! Didn't I tell you, Letty, that I adore!"

"The coal truck," she interrupted again. "You certainly used enough adjectives to give one that impression."

"And I do!" he cried defiantly. "I adore the horses, the axle and every other part that helped toward the breaking down because—do you know why, Letty?"

"Because it made the poor conductor tramp two miles in the snow," she answered.

The man was annoyed.

"Confound the conductor!" he cried.

"I wish he'd come back," she said. "If he does not return soon I will call upon the motorman. I suppose he is responsible for the safety of the passengers while his mate is away."

The mention of the motorman made her companion turn around to see where that person was stationed, and he was somewhat surprised to find that he had impressed two horses belonging to another truckman and, with the combined teams, was making a vigorous effort to pull the obstruction from the track. This strenuous proceeding alarmed the man, and he turned quickly to the girl.

"Letty, I want you to listen," he cried. "This might be the only chance I will get to explain."

The noise outside increased.

"Go-ahead!" screamed the driver as the four horses strained and struggled "Keep it up! Keep it up!"

"Letty!" The man seized both hands now and tried to turn her face toward him. "I want to tell you—"

"Use the whip!" yelled the driver.

His shrill shriek rippled through the car and drowned the man's voice.

The girl turned toward the window, and the fur boa on her shoulders shook suspiciously. The man had a dim idea that she was laughing.

"I suppose he can start at you," she cried irritably, "and your actions since he departed prove that the stare was effective."

"But, Letty," he said, "what a terrible thing it is to look back on three thousand wasted years, thirty-five autumns, thirty-five springs, and the same number of winters and summers, all barren and useless!" He shuddered and moved closer.

"Oh, Jack," she murmured, "do look and see if he is coming."

He stood up, still holding the little hand, and carefully scanned the white road. "He is not coming!" he cried gleefully. "He will have to walk a mile—a mile there and a mile back."

"You have no pity!" exclaimed the girl. She made an attempt to release the imprisoned hand as she spoke, but the man's grip tightened. "How would you like it, sir, if you had to walk two miles in the snow because a silly coal truck collapsed on the track?"

He said the man, dropping back into his

Plan for Summer Comfort

Don't waste the heat of a kitchen fire to the sufficient discomfort of hot weather.

Use a New Perfection Wick
Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove
and cook in comfort.

With a "New Perfection" Oil Stove the preparation of daily meals, or the big weekly "baking," is done without raising the temperature perceptibly above that of any other room in the house.

If you once have experience with the

NEW PERFECTION Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove

you will be amazed at the restful way in which it enables you to do work that has heretofore overheated
the kitchen and yourself.

The "New Perfection" Stove is ideal for summer use. Made in three sizes and all warranted. If not at your dealer's, write our nearest agency.

The Rayo Lamp gives perfect

Bourbon Fiscal Court Meeting.

The Bourbon Fiscal Court in regular session Friday listened to a speech from Judge Harmon Stitt who presented a petition on behalf of more than four hundred farmers and business men, requesting the court to tear away the covered wooden bridge that spans Stoner creek at the foot of Main street in Paris, and instead thereof erect a modern steel bridge. The bridge which it is sought to remove was erected in 1833, and while it has two pass-ways for vehicles, they are very narrow,
no provision being made for pedestrians.

Judge Stitt pointed out the fact that the construction of a modern bridge would solve the question of an egress for the extension of the Interurban railroad, via Millersburg to Mayville, or via North Middletown to Mt. Sterling, out of which the county could charge an annual rental besides the necessity and demand for a modern foot bridge for residents in East Paris.

The petition was received and filed
and will later be taken under advisement by the court.

The court then proceeded to the transaction of routine business.

C. F. Redmon, Turnpike Supervisor, read his report for the month of June which was approved. A statement was presented to the court showing the amount of work completed by turnpike contractors during the month of June which aggregated the amount of $494.77. Warrants were ordered drawn upon the county Treasurer for their payment.

An appropriation of $1,000 was allowed the turnpike supervisor for the month of July.

A committee was appointed to inquire into the building of a bridge and the necessity of changing the course of the North Middletown and Owingsville turnpike. The committee appointed was composed of Esquires Hopkins and Redmon, with Judge Dundon as an ex-officio member.

An order was passed requiring the turnpike supervisor to put a rock crusher into immediate use on the Paris &
Little Rock turnpike.

An order was passed that Bourbon County unite with Harrison County in the construction of a bridge over Silas creek, near Jacksonville, and that the cost which was estimated at $1,450
be equally borne by the two counties.
Esquire J. T. Barlow was appointed committee with full power to superintend the undertaking.

Esquires Thomason and Claybrook were appointed a committee to purchase coal for the different public institutions of the county.

After allowing claims against the county aggregating the sum of $919.58
the court adjourned.

A Califorian's Luck.

"The luckiest day of my life was when I bought a box of Bucklen's Ar-nic Salve," writes Charles F. Bud-man, of Tracy, California. "Two 25-cent boxes cured me of an annoying case of itching piles, which had troubled me for years and that yielded to no other treatment." Sold under guarantee at Oberdorfer's drug store. 50 cents and $1.00.

Ready for Parker.

Friends of Mr. Bryan at Denver were prompt to denounce the effort of Judge Alton B. Parker to attack Mr.
Bryan under cover of resolutions on the death of Grover Cleveland.

In order to prevent the controversy sure to follow the introduction of the resolutions prepared by Judge Parker, Mr. Bryan's friends will as soon as the temporary chairman has finished his speech introduce a set of resolutions paying tribute to Mr. Cleveland.

The resolutions will be drawn in such a manner as to leave no cause of dissatisfaction and if Mr. Parker attempts to substitute his resolutions, his purpose to create dissension in the Democratic party will be made plain and can be promptly rebuked by the delegates
without the appearance of dismorning
Mr. Cleveland.

Judge Alton B. Parker issued a statement Saturday in which he said the Cleveland resolutions which had been printed were tentative only and that he had intended to revise them before offering them to the National Convention.

He denied that his purpose had been other than to pay tribute to the memory of Mr. Cleveland and said he could be guided in his action by the caucus of the New York delegation. Charles

S. Murphy, the Tammany leader, said that he had never seen the resolutions and that Judge Parker would be compelled to submit them to the entire delegation before offering them in the convention.

LIVE STOCK AND CROP NOTES

Lightning struck and killed a fine broodmare belonging to Ed Allen, near Junack. The mare was the dam of Bourbon Chief, Jr., and was valued at $1,000. Her loss falls heavily on her young breeder.

Homegrown persons are on the market in scant quantities, as the frost of April reduced the crop.

W. A. Bacon bought a fine
Ossuary for $300 handsome weanling filly
from Laconta, dam Suarta, dam of Bourbon
H. 2:09.

Do you attempt to feed and rest
the horse at noon with his harness on? A man might as well think of joy his dinner by sitting down to it with overcoat, hat and gloves on?

At a sale of Shorthorns held by Walpole Bros. and W. J. McLean on Tuesday of last week at Rock Valley,
Iowa, 46 head average $12.18.

At a recent sale of Kentucky
horses and harness horses in New York, conducted by Dr. Frank of Versailles, a Montgomery Chief saddle gelding, sold for $1,185.

Warren Rogers sold last week to
G. W. Morrow for the United States Dressed Beef Company 30 head of export cattle at $6.33 per one hundred pounds. Mr. Rogers also sold 53 head of cattle to Maurice Weil, of Lexington for $6.50 per one hundred pounds. The first bunch of cattle will probably cut weigh the latter by fifty pounds per head.

Reports from Germany state that the price of pork is again going up in that country. The price seems to vary considerably in different large cities.
From a table now before us giving quotations in various cities we find the following interesting figures: Cost Berlin pork is quoted at from $9.93 to $11.00 per hundred. Magdeburg is the lowest point quoted, $8.12 to $8.22. Stuttgart pork cost $12.31 to $12.50 at Nuremberg it is $12.44 to $13.18. In the 17 cities named in the table the three quote pork at less than 10 cents per pound.

Threshermen who have been operating their machines throughout the week until the rain put a stop to further work, report a light yield. But few fields will make a better average than 15 bushels per acre, while the run of operations show a yield averaging from eight to ten bushels. In a field on the Dan Loring farm, which stood so thick on the ground as to tax the capacity of the binder when cutting,
the thresher disclosed on an eight hour run, only 71 bushels of grain. The quality of the grain is reported as being as disappointing as that of the yield, the grain being shriveled and light in weight. Expert wheat growers give as the probable reason for the poor yield and quality of grain the effects of the severe frosts and freezes occurring in April.

The swine, says an exchange, are getting scarcer than they have been in years and the traders say hogs will bring $7 per hundred within sixty days.

There is nothing more detrimental to the fowls than chiggers, says an expert poultry raiser and if the coops and houses are free from them the chicks will always be healthy and grow rapidly. If instruction are properly carried out the following remedy may prove of value to those of our readers who want healthy fowls. Take four or five foot sticks, tie a piece of old carpet or other woolen rag, one end with wire, making a torch, saturate it with coal oil, set fire to it and move rapidly around the chicken coop or henhouse. Try this and see how soon the chiggers will disappear.

Valued Same as Gold.

B. G. Stewart, a merchant of Cedar View, Miss., says: "I tell my customers when they buy a box of Dr.
King's New Life Pills they get the worth of that much gold in weight, if infected with constipation, malaria or biliousness." Sold under guarantee at Oberdorfer's drug store. 25 cents. July

WALTER A. WOOD

NEW CENTURY BINDER

This binder has a world-wide reputation. In every grain growing country under the Sun it is said to be the best yet by all who use it or see it work. The features that appeal most to its users are: - lightness of draft; handiness of operation; durability of construction; ability to do perfect work in any kind of grain; accuracy and sure work of knotter; absence of neck weight and side draft; and side draft is now a thing of the past. The New Century is the latest type of binder made by the people who gave the world its first successful binder, and now give it its most successful one - a binder that

WALTER A. WOOD MOWERS

Are Different From All Others

When the late Walter A. Wood built his first mower he based it upon a principle entirely different from any other. That same principle today distinguishes our mowers from all others. He based his "floating frame" mowers on the "direct under-draft" principle. It is the "direct under-draft" principle that makes it possible only one-half the power to move it because the genuine underdrift is possible only with the "floating frame" construction which is unique to Walter A. Wood Mowers. We feel justified in asserting that our mowers are: the easiest running; lightest in draft; having the greatest reach; the lowest in price and longest lived. The mower that leads on these points is the mower it will pay the farmer to buy. There are many other good points fully illustrated and described in our Catalog. Write for it today.

Farmer Hangs Himself.

James A. Gammon, of near Danville aged 45 years, was found hanging in his barn, having evidently committed suicide many hours before the discovery was made. Gammon was a farmer and no cause is known why he should have decided to end his life. He leaves a wife and one son.

Wyatt's Personally Conducted Summer Tour.

J. D. Wyatt, Excursion Manager of Lexington, Ky., will give one of his personally conducted summer tours to Atlantic City, Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Md., Philadelphia, New York, via Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad on July 30, 1908. The entire actual cost for this, one of the most delightful of summer trips, is $35.00. Address Mr. Wyatt, at Lexington, for full particulars.

More Time Given.

Dr. Arthur Yager, chairman of the Rhodes Scholarship Committee of Kentucky, as well as President of Georgetown College, has just received information from the Rhodes Scholarship trustees at Oxford that the qualifying examination for those to be elected to the scholarship for 1910, will be held October, 1909, instead of January as heretofore, this giving more time for the student to choose his college and get in readiness.

The Test From Denver.

The "allies" who are seeking to organize opposition to Mr. Bryan are not meeting with much success at Denver. The New York delegation is going to leave its attitude on all questions to a subcommittee favorable to Murphy's wishes. It is said Mr. Bryan prefers that no choice be made for Vice President until the head of the ticket as named by the Democratic National Convention.

Gun and Knife Play.

On the Lexington & Eastern train Saturday afternoon, between Winchester and Clay City, a quarrel arose in which Floyd Horton was shot three times by Gardner Nelson. One shot took effect in the breast and two in the face. Rees Horton, a son of Floyd Horton, attacked Nelson with a knife, inflicting wounds which may prove fatal. The elder Horton is also supposed to be mortally wounded. Both the wounded men were taken to Lexington.

Off for North Pole.

GREAT LOOM END AND CLEARANCE SALE AT HARRY SIMON'S

Wait For It. Nothing Like this Sale Ever Seen in the Good Old City of Paris . . .

What is Meant by Loom Ends? Where Do They Come From? We Will Tell You.

Loom Ends are goods that fall short in length of the requirements for export purposes, but identical in quality with the first grades, yet still not to be classed with the regular goods, because they are wanting in length, or a slight imperfection in the weave, or careless stitching in the underwear or a thread dropped in hosiery. These are Loom Ends. None of these slight flares hurt the wear or the looks of the goods to the customer, but they prevent mills or factories from selling them at a profit. The enormous stock of Loom Ends we have purchased for this sale are all new goods, fresh from the looms, and are offered today at Loom cost. You will never know what Loom End Cost is if you fail to attend this sale, for the prices given are but an inkling of the money-saving opportunities offered. You pay two or three times the price for the same goods at other stores.
